Key Elements of Adults on Mission

Adults on Mission functions primarily through informal small groups that seek to accomplish God's mission purpose in the world. Adults on Mission groups are characterized by several key elements.

- Project oriented
- Missions ministry based
- Combination of learning and doing
- Not focused on meetings
- Flexible (times to gather, needs met, etc.)
- Engaging and experiential
- Team-based using their gifts and skills as participants work together.

Adults on Mission groups influence the world for Christ through hands-on missions experiences. Whether short or long term, international, national, state, or local, people are touched by the gospel message. Adults on Mission participants experience growth through missions discipleship.
